One Day Tours

I Love New York!

Add a visit to the Empire State Building or Top of the Rock to any of our New York City Tour Packages.

Top of the Rock Observation Deck a three-tiered deck at the top of the GE Building in Rockefeller Center, features what many consider to be the finest panoramic vistas of New York City. Views include all of Manhattan's top attractions: Central Park, the Chrysler Building, the Empire State Building, Grand Central Terminal, the Hudson River and more. On a clear day, you can even see all the way to the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge in Brooklyn. The views, in one word: Breathtaking!

The Tenement Museum Fascinating Tours of 97 Orchard Street. Built on Manhattan's Lower East Side in 1863, this tenement apartment building in an old brownstone was home to nearly 7000 working class immigrants. You can see how new immigrants really lived as they first began to fulfill their many dreams of freedom in America. They faced challenges we understand today: making a new life, working for a better.

New York City is the largest city in the US and is the main business and financial hub in the United States. It is home to Wall Street, The Federal Reserve Bank and countless Fortune 500 companies. New York City is also recognized worldwide for its art, culture, music and fashion. Aspiring students will discover this global Epicenter is in their own "backyard" and that New York is the place where many Americans go to follow their dreams in business, finance, fashion and the arts. Our new tours will inspire such dreams.

The Beast This water cruise introduces you to the City with plenty of excitement of its own. They call it The Beast because of its speed, its size, and its teeth. New York's very own thrill ride. Captain "Mad Dog" will take you for a wet n'wild ride through New York Harbor. Daredevils from all over the world travel miles to experience New York's famous "water coaster" and take a "ride on the wild side". Soar past skyscrapers, bounding over waves take in views of New York City's skyline and its famous landmarks. Stop for a close-up of the Statue of Liberty. You must be at least 40" tall to ride the beast. Not wheelchair accessible, not recommended for pregnant women. Children under 18 must be accompanied by an adult. Tour does not operate in the rain.

Grand Central Terminal: 100 Years Grand the year long centennial celebration will salute Grand Central's past, present and future. Explore one of New York's premiere architectural treasures with a walking tour. Along the way, you'll learn about the Terminal's state-of-the-art design and construction, and its many hidden secrets.

BUSINESS IN NYC

How It Began New York is all about business. New York has a Federal Reserve, the NY Stock Exchange and Wall Street. It is also the headquarters for some of America's largest corporations. The roller coaster ride of finance is a commonplace in NYC and shapes the makeup of the city. Students will explore the history of commerce and the birth of the financial industry. They'll walk away with a true understanding of what business means to New York and the rest of the country.

MADE IN NY

A Fashion Adventure Explore the fashion landmarks of NYC with a former fashion model. She will be your guide as she takes you to some of New York's most famous fashion sights: Bryant Park, the Garment Center and the Flatiron District. She will tell her stories on what it was like to be an accomplished model in NYS (with over 15 magazine covers) and how it was to work in the world's most glamorous industry. In this tour, students will cover how fashion is determined and how design concepts make it to the runways of Fashion Week.

ART

See some of the top art museums in the world. Experience firsthand famous paintings, sculptures, and works of art by world famous artists like Van Gogh, Michelangelo and Picasso. Students will gain a deeper connection to works of art and artistic expression. Choose a thematic tour at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Visit the Guggenheim Museum, an architectural masterpiece by Frank Lloyd Wright. Learn to create your first artist portfolio and to look closely and discuss art at the Museum of Modern Art. Explore works of art through these thoroughly modern pieces. Examine how artists transform everyday objects into extraordinary works of art.

MUSIC

New York City is the world's most diverse and intriguing city. It is characterized in large part by the music that enriches people's lives and brings people together. Experience this diversity by visiting Carnegie Hall one of the world's foremost concert halls, Radio City Music Hall, Harlem's sites and landmarks celebrating Gospel, Hip-Hop and Jazz. Students will love every one of these behind-the-scenes experiences.

American Museum of Natural History Explore one of the largest science museums. Exhibits include the Hall of Asian Peoples, Meteorites, Biology of Man, Mexico and Central America, Africa and Habitat Groups of North America. IMAX available upon request.

Mummies: On view through January 7, 2018

For thousands of years, peoples around the world practiced mummification as a way of preserving and honoring their dead. Mummies brings you face to face with some of these ancient individuals and reveals how scientists are using modern technology to glean stunning details about them and their cultures.

The Butterfly Conservatory: Tropical Butterflies Alive in Winter:
October 7, 2017–May 28, 2018

This exhibition, an annual favorite, features up to 500 live, free-flying tropical butterflies from the Americas, Africa, and Asia. The butterflies are housed in a vivarium that approximates their natural habitat, includes live flowering plants that serve as nectar sources, and features controlled artificial light, temperature, and humidity. Featured species include iridescent blue morpho butterflies, striking scarlet swallowtails, and large owl butterflies.

Our Senses: An Immersive Experience:
November 20, 2017–January 6, 2019

We get to know our world through some or all of our senses—sight, smell, hearing, touch, and taste—but they’re just parts of a much larger puzzle. The highly experiential exhibition Our Senses delves into how our brains work with sensory organs to shape our perceptions and reveals how, until recently in our evolutionary history, humans have been oblivious to nature’s other crucial signals, including UV light, infrared sounds, and electrical fields. Highlights include a virtual garden to explore through the eyes of a bee or a snake; an audio-collage challenging visitors to test their skill at tracking individual sounds; illusions that make flat surfaces seem rippled; a variety of tactile experiences that activate different kinds of nerves; and a smell test inviting visitors to guess the ingredients in a complex scent.

Other areas of the exhibition will explain how our senses and brain work together to create our perception of “reality” by filling in gaps, resolving conflicts, correcting errors, and using scraps of information to trigger memories. A live presenter will examine how the senses and world views of other species differ from ours and what’s truly unique about human perception, including sensory integration and appreciation of art and music.

Oceans (working title): March 12, 2018–January 6, 2019

Oceans explores our blue planet’s defining feature—the world ocean—as revealed through 21st-century technology. Robotics, satellite monitoring, miniaturization, and high-definition imaging are enabling ocean scientists to tackle new questions. Do great white sharks return to the same spot in the open ocean year after year? (Tiny radio transmitters provide the answer.) Where is the world’s largest volcano, and how did it form? (Hint: It’s on the sea floor, its details mapped in sharp relief with advanced multi-channel sonar.) Why do microscopic plankton—which form the base of the entire ocean food chain—drift with the currents? (Tiny floating robots offer us important clues.)

Visitors to the exhibition will meet the elusive giants of the sea, including whales, sharks, giant squid; sink beneath the waves in a virtual submersible theater; and marvel at the vivid fluorescence displayed by marine creatures but invisible to us... until now. And they’ll leave with a deeper awareness that the future of the planet depends on the future of the ocean.

Inside You: June 24, 2017–June 16, 2019

Inside You explores the rapidly evolving science that is revolutionizing how we view human health. Our bodies are home to many trillions of microbes, including bacteria, viruses, fungi, and other organisms collectively called the human microbiome. In any human, microbial genes outnumber the genes in human DNA by more than 100 to one. Your body also contains more microbial cells than human cells. This new perspective leads us to look at our bodies not just as individuals, but as entire ecosystems. Included in General admission

Giant Screen films in 2D and 3D - Earthflight: September 15, 2017–March 8, 2018

Narrated by Academy Award-winning actress Cate Blanchett, Earthflight is a totally immersive experience, taking the audience on an incredible flight across the world on the wings of birds. Filmed in four continents and 11 countries, the film took four years to make. Revolutionary aerial techniques and state-of-the-art 3D cameras deliver the reality of flight as viewers join a variety of different avian species on their seasonal journeys. The audience will discover the fascinating science of flight: how they maneuver simultaneously in flocks a million strong; manage immense journeys; navigate across whole continents; and collaborate with other animals to find food.

Origami Holiday Tree: November 20, 2017–January 7, 2018

An annual tradition and major tourist attraction, the delightfully decorated Origami Holiday Tree has marked the start of the holiday season at the Museum for decades. Volunteers, including local, national, and international origami artists, fold year-round, contributing to a collection of over 1,000 models that will be displayed on the tree. Each year the 13-foot-tree features a different theme relating to the Museum's special exhibitions or to its collections, which includes more than 33 million artifacts and specimens. Past themes have included Origami Dinosaurs Among Us; Mighty and Microscopic Life; Origami Night at the Museum; The Museum's Biggest and Best; Fantastic Creatures: Mythic and Real; Origami in Flight; Under the Sea; Flowers for New York; Origami A to Z; and Origami Safari. During the holiday season, volunteers will be on hand to teach visitors of all ages origami, the art of paper folding.

Hayden Planetarium

Ballet students are invited to learn from the professionals, taking a private class taught by a member of the New York City Ballet.

The Gateway to America Explore Ellis Island, the former U.S. Immigration Center, where over 24 million people entered our country. Relive their stories as you visit the buildings where the melting pot began. Plus, visit the “Gift of Friendship” – the Statue of Liberty.

Subway 101 Navigating The Underground Arteries. This walking and subway tour includes many popular landmarks and neighborhoods. Before the adventure begins, students will learn a lesson on the NYC subway system from their guide. The escapade starts with stories of Lower Manhattan, then on to Battery Park, with vistas of Lady Liberty and Ellis Island. Next, they’ll jump on the subway to Greenwich Village to meet some “Friends.” Then it’s north for the energy of Times Square. Students will then take a walk to the grandeur of Rockefeller Center. The tour concludes with a stroll to Central Park, Manhattan’s backyard.

Let’s Explore Harlem This tour will inform, inspire and engage your students as they learn about the past, present and future of Harlem, USA, The black capital of the world. Stops and sights include: Apollo Theatre, Harriet Tubman Statue, Morris Jumel Mansion, Malcolm X Memorial, Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. State and State Office Building, Countee Cullen Library and others.

New York City Old and New Visit the newly opened Smithsonian National Museum of the American Indian for a unique opportunity to learn about native-American people and their culture. Visit Lower Manhattan with a local historian who will focus on history, architecture and lore of the city’s oldest place of settlement. Stops include the Tweed Courthouse, the Woolworth Building and the U.S. Custom House.

Brooklyn Bridge and Brooklyn Heights Cross the Brooklyn Bridge and recount the dramatic story of how it was built. Then it’s on to “The Heights” to explore its rich architectural, social and literary history. Stops include the A.A. Low Mansion, Plymouth Church and the homes of famous American authors such as Wolfe, Whitman, Capote and Miller.

Multi-ethnic New York City Tour Take a multi-ethnic jaunt through the Jewish Lower East Side, Chinatown and Little Italy to see the contributions made by immigrants of yesterday and today to New York’s architecture, cuisine, economy and culture. Nosh along the way.

Financial History Learn about the stock market and the American banking system. This tour is a great way to make such abstract material both concrete and exciting. Walk through the Wall Street area to learn about the Dutch West India Company, Alexander Hamilton, J.P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, as well as Michael Milken and Ivan Boesky. Along the way we stop in for short tours of The New York Stock Exchange and the Museum of American Financial History. This tour will give students the understanding of the historical developments of the American economy, as well as the workings of the stock market.

Climb Aboard Aviation History Be a part of the most inspiring adventure in America at the Intrepid Museum. This is one of America's leading historic, cultural and educational institutions and is centered on the aircraft carrier Intrepid and is one of the most successful ships in US history (and now a national historic landmark). From Scavenger Hunts & Educational Workshops to their new Exploreum, which features spectacular interactive exhibits and the latest in virtual, multi-sensory and video-display technology, the new Intrepid Sea, Air & Space Museum is a dynamic, interactive, educational experience. Investigate a "top secret" submarine, discover never before-seen areas of the ship. Combine this wonderful experience with a fabulous two hour Circle Line Sightseeing Cruise around Manhattan.

Science; Old And New A visit to the NY Hall of Science is New York City's hands-on science and technology center. The Hall features more than 400 hands-on exhibits, exploring the wonder of biology, chemistry, and ecology for the future. Next stop is the Alley Pond Environmental Center, dedicated to establishing an awareness, understanding and appreciation of our environment through classroom instruction, nature walk, and craft sessions. Last stop for the day is at Garvies Point Museum and Preserve, built on a high cliff overlooking Long Island Sound. The museum offers exhibits on Long Island geology and Native-American archaeology, as well as fossils, paint-pots, arrowheads, jewelry and other relics from our ancient past. A nature walk viewing over 100 species of birds and down to the beach to view the unusual multicolored clay formed 20,000 years ago.

The Sports Museum Of America ("SmA") This museum is the nation's first and only all-sports experience richly showcasing the history, grandeur and significance of sports in American culture. SmA features amazing state-of-the-art interactive technologies, dramatic original films and an iconic collection of sports memorabilia. SmA will also be home to the legendary Heisman Trophy and the Billie Jean King International Women's Sports Center, including the first ever women's sports hall of fame.

Local actors and actresses lead all tours. Warning: Come prepared to sing theme songs!

Fast Paced Finance: Money And NYC A walking tour of Lower Manhattan. The tour focuses on Wall Street and its history, the Dutch History of New Amsterdam and how the colony was founded based on financial gain and not on religious freedom, the busy port system of NYC and how it made NYC what it is. Then visit the American Museum of Financial History for a program with a museum educator who will focus on objects in the museum's collections.

Visit The Met... see The World! Discover two million works of art spanning 5,000 years of world culture at New York City's number one tourist attraction. From the splendors of ancient Egypt to contemporary works by today's leading artists, a world of art awaits you at The Metropolitan Museum of Art—world-famous, encyclopedic collections, plus more than 30 annual special exhibitions all free with your admission.

NYC Snack Attack A Tasteploration of Manhattan. New York City is famous for its food. The first licensed pizzeria was established in Manhattan in 1905. Hot dogs have been sold in the streets of the Lower East Side since the 1860's. Besides tasting some of their favorite foods (and some strange ones), students will also explore the neighborhoods of Midtown, Little Italy, Chinatown, Greenwich Village and the Lower East Side. The lunch tastings will be served off the coach and are enough to satisfy the midday appetite.

New York City's 9/11 Memorial We must pass the events of September 11 and our memories of it to the next generation and every generation that follows. The Memorial and Museum respects all those who suffered and the sacred ground where this terrible event took place. Honors the courage and heroism of those who risked their lives to save others and creates an educational, intergenerational experience that will allow visitors to explore the ongoing and evolving implications of the attacks. Timed Tickets are required to visit the Memorial. A visit to the memorial can be combined with many other sights in Manhattan. Some ideas are: St. Paul's Chapel, Manhattan's oldest public building in continuous use, a place where George Washington worshiped and 9/11 recovery workers received round-the-clock care, The Statue of Liberty & Ellis Island, the South Street Seaport, Wall Street and Trinity Church.

Each creative space invites you to play and explore while learning and having lots of fun!

Literary Tour Many of our most influential literary figures of the 19th century lived near each other in Concord, Massachusetts. Tour Concord, Walden Pond and Salem. Get a greater understanding of literature at these famous sites such as the Orchard House, Emerson Memorial House, and the Nathaniel Hawthorne House.

Scavenger Hunts Ready for team building with a dash of culture? On each scavenger hunt students have to decipher witty, tricky questions in fast-paced games that bring out the best in the city—and the best in the teammates. Students will not be hunting for things but answers to clever questions about the intriguing places and objects they discover. The questions emphasize nimble thinking and teamwork. They're crafted to the various skills of each member of your team. A new, interesting and memorable way to discover a city, museum, zoo, you name it!

Discover the Magic of Long Island!

The Adventure Park: Fun & Learning Combine In The Trees! Students discover more than just fun in our trees. —They discover themselves. When students go for a climb through the trees and ride the zip lines at The Adventure Park at Long Island—sure—they’re having the time of their lives, but they are also learning about themselves.

They leave the park with two things: smiles on their faces and a sense of satisfaction that they achieved something. The Adventure Park consists of a series of bridges between tree platforms, forming “aerial trails” that link together to form courses. These are color coded, according to challenge level, from introductory through advanced. Every course has at least one or more zip lines to add to the fun. All climbers wear harnesses doubly connected to a safety cable throughout their time in the trees. A climb at The Adventure Park is guaranteed to help build self-esteem, group spirit and... memories that will last for years.

Parrish Art Museum The Parrish Art Museum is dedicated to American art, with a focus on Long Island’s East End. Students are invited to explore the Parrish’s permanent collections and special exhibitions. A variety of grade specific themes are available and gallery activities or hands-on workshops can also be arranged.

The Parrish Art Museum is THE vital center for cultural engagement in the East End, a catalyst for creativity, and a place you will want your students to visit over and over again.

Discover the Seas and Skies Learn about Long Island’s whaling industry at Cold Spring Harbor Whaling Museum. See a 30-foot whaleboat, scrimshaw and a hands-on marine mammal bone display. Take a look at the stars above at an astronomy program at the Vanderbilt Planetarium or learn about the Vanderbilt family on a mansion tour. Many programs are available – ask us!

Questions to Ask When Chartering a Motorcoach:

Guidelines for Schools and Youth Organizations

Choosing a motorcoach operator for your group can be daunting. There are many choices and options and you want the best choice for the best value. Here are a few key tips to ensure that your group’s safety, comfort and well-being are the focus for your experience.

What is the motorcoach company like?

How long has the motorcoach company been in business? An established company has a reputation. A fledgling company is untested. Be sure your motorcoach company has the full range of technical and management support necessary.

 Ask for proof of federal, state and/or provincial operating authority. Especially ask if the company is in compliance with New York State’s Article 19A of the Vehicle and Traffic Law (intrastate) and Federal Department of Transportation regulations (interstate).

How is the condition of the coach?

Comfort, general presentation and cleanliness are important – equally so is mechanical condition.

 Check out the fleet or at least the coaches likely to be used for your group either with photos or in-person. You can also check with the New York State Department of Transportation regarding the coach company’s equipment and maintenance record.

What should you know about your driver?

Drivers should be competent and licensed. If you are a kindergarten through 12th grade group your driver must be “school bus qualified” (fingerprinted and history cleared) as required by Section 509 of the New York State Vehicle and Traffic Law.

 Before booking your charter ask the prospective coach company to provide three or four names and a recent drivers license abstract for a “pool” of drivers that can be assigned to your trip who are appropriately qualified and meet all of the guidelines. You can also request the compliance status of the coach company as well as driver qualification status by contacting the Bus Driver Certification Unit of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

 Does the company comply with coach drivers’ hours regulations, compiled to avoid risks caused by fatigue? Review Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (www.fmcsa.dot.gov) and NY State Department of Transportation (www.dot.state.ny.us) inspection ratings. Never contract with a carrier having an unsatisfactory rating.

 Ask about driver training and what the company’s programs and policies are.

 Does the company have a drug and alcohol testing program? Do not contract with any carrier that does not provide evidence of an enforced drug and alcohol program.

What type of vehicle do you need?

The number of passengers, length and purpose of the journey as well as any special needs dictates the type of vehicle. Your charter representative can help you choose a vehicle that's ideal for your group from our fleet.

 What's important to your passengers? Bathrooms? Galley kitchen? Video? Wheelchair lifts? On-board attendant? Ensure that your requirements are included in the charter price.

 Hampton Jitney offers adjustable seatbelts for adults and children. Ask us about this feature.

 Hampton Jitney offers on-board audio/video systems with individual headset jacks at each seat to help keep the noise level down.

Any special requirements?

 Do you anticipate last minute changes to the route or times? Make sure the company can accommodate those changes in advance so you know how much latitude you have.

 If your group includes the very young, elderly or people with disabilities, can the company provide appropriate vehicles and arrange stops at places in order to meet any special needs?

Safety and more safety

 Ask if the company offers special equipment such as seatbelts and other personal safety features.

 Ask about antilock braking systems and other relevant equipment.

 Does the company have its own on-site, readily available maintenance department?

 Ask for proof of adequate insurance coverage (including liability coverage of at least $5 million).

A back up plan

Even the best maintained vehicles can develop problems. Vehicles can be damaged. Here's what you need to ask in the event of an unforeseen circumstance:

 What systems are in place to avoid unacceptable delays? For example, Hampton Jitney is a member of the International Motor Coach Group which is a confederation of the most experienced operators committed to providing mutual aid to fellow members (including vehicle repair/replacement and operator assistance) in order to minimize any disruption and inconvenience to our customers. Visit www.imgcoach.com for more information about this elite network.

Ask for references

A great charter services provider should be proud of their references and more than willing to share.

Tips when on the trip

It is helpful beforehand to have developed guidelines and protocols for the adult chaperones on the trip to follow. The designated individual must have the proper authorization to take whatever steps are necessary to ensure the safe transportation of the children, including terminating the trip if the condition of the coach equipment or driver is in question.

 Verify the identity of the driver by asking to see his/her license and ensure that it matches up with the paperwork you have been provided.

 Evaluate the condition of the vehicle (clean, working condition, any defects, etc.) and driver (not fatigued).

 Monitor driver's driving performance (speed, safe lane changes, proper following distance, etc.)

 Monitor driver's physical condition – especially on long trips to ensure driver is not fatigued.

 Better safe than sorry. Take decisive action if you feel that there is a safety concern.

After the trip

Provide feedback. All reputable charter companies want to serve their passengers well. Criticism can be helpful to improve areas of service needing attention and positive feedback is helpful to let staff and drivers know what they are doing well. Your comments are always welcome.

10 TIPS FOR SUCCESSFUL TOURS

1. Choose the Right Itinerary

Select one that addresses your students' interests and curriculum. Have the right mix of scheduled activities and down time. Stay away from long driving stretches which will bring on boredom.

2. Allow Enough Lead Time

Plan your tour 6 months in advance.

3. Verify the details of group's itinerary.

Check with your tour planner well before your departure date to confirm all the details.

4. Plan Some Pre-Trip Activities

Get your students into the groove by organizing classroom activities related to your upcoming tour.

5. Establish a Code of Conduct

Run your tour like you run your classroom. Remind students you expect them to be on time, respect property, maintain good public behavior and wear proper attire throughout the trip.

6. Pack Light

For overnight trips stress to students one bag per person is plenty. Encourage layers for unforeseen weather conditions.

7. Observe Safety Precautions

Good old-fashioned common sense. Establish a buddy system, provide students with chaperones' cell phone numbers, avoid strangers and large crowds, never leave bags unattended and recognize landmarks.

8. Communicate With Parents

Communicate openly with parents to maintain their confidence in you as the trip leader. Hold a parent-student meeting. Be clear about what is and isn't included in the trip price. Collect deposits for trip upfront and remind them when payments are due.

9. Stay Healthy

Walking can be exhausting, remind students to drink water to prevent dehydration. Encourage nutritious snacks to be brought along and make sure students get a good night's sleep. Make sure necessary medical forms are filed. Advise parents to disclose any food related allergies.

10. Fundraising

Fundraising is an integral part of student travel in today's times. It not only offsets some of the tighter budget constraints, it enables our kids to share the responsibilities of some of the costs.
